Austrians leading SWR label (Jazz and music from and for today) publishes the debut album of the international collaborating AccepDanceCollective.

Touring Poland at least twice a year for the last 15 years, Austrians openminded acoustic guitarist Martin Wesely came to meet Polish leading Jazz guitarist Piotr Domagata in 2011. Since then they exchanged musical opinions and ideas about their most various projects. When they got together by coincidence at the Tychy Guitar Festival in October 2016 where each of them played a concert on the same evening they decided to launch the actual AccepDance project.

They realized their idea of finest intimate chamber musical setting and powerful tight band attitude with the most versatile musicians coming together from highly varied backgrounds. Unique multi instrumentalist Oleg Dyyak has performed for many great classical and vanguard musicians like John Zorn, John McClean or Don Byron. The colorful and creative drummer and percussion player Andreas Schiffer realized already three CDs together with Wesely and can be heard on more than 100 productions as a sought after sideman. Young groove addicted double bass player Florian Hupfauf completes the Collective.

After touring in 2017 and 2018 in Austria and Poland they recorded their debut album with the most respect for their different traditions and personalities.
